Annex 1: Criteria for awarding the Faculty Research Award

The Faculty Research Award is awarded annually by the Faculty of Allied Health Sciences for the research contribution made by the permanent academic staff member of the FAHS. The following criteria were approved by the Faculty Board held on 17/12/2019 and were amended on 06/01/2020 and 10/08/2020.

To be eligible for the Faculty Research Awards, a candidate must fulfil the following requirements;

- Candidate shall be a permanent academic staff member of the faculty for the time period of evaluation of the full paper for faculty research awards.
- Full paper publications (both original and review, case reports/case series/short communications): The evidence of the full paper publication (hard copy and e-copy) should be provided to FRC to be considered for the faculty research awards.
- Full paper publication in a peer-reviewed non-predatory journal as per guideline set by the members of FRC (see the guideline on how to identify non-predatory journals)
- Publication in both peer-reviewed indexed and non-indexed journals.

- Proof of author affiliation to FAHS, UoP: The author affiliation should be mentioned as Faculty of Allied Health Sciences, University of Peradeniya in the paper.
- A paper shall be considered only once regardless of the number of authors. The duplication will be removed.
- All the authors of FAHS of a particular full paper will be awarded if the publication meets the above criteria.
